

Adenza

Leading financial institutions choose Adenza's innovative platform to opportunity for Basel III/IV and regulatory reporting

Two North America-based G-SIBs, four of the top twenty US banks, and a large financial services and insurance firm recently selected Adenza's AxiomSL innovative platform to consolidate Basel III/IV RWA/capital calculations and regulatory reporting in a single system.

We are delighted that these esteemed firms have chosen to partner with Adenza for their strategic risk and regulatory reporting needs.

We are confident that our integrated, proven solutions coupled with our leading technology platform provides the best path to staying compliant and futureproof in this complex regulatory landscape.

In addition, with the opportunities arising from the merger of AxiomSL and Calypso, we are excited to provide our clients with even more integrated capabilities ranging from front-to-back-office capital markets solutions, Basel III/IV risk analytics, to collateral management and treasury.

Ed Probst

Head of Strategy,
Regulatory Solutions

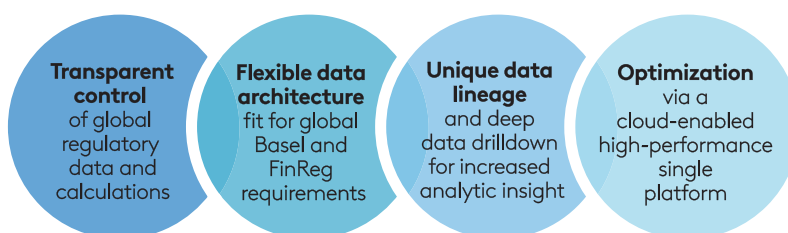

Compelling event and decision drivers

With Basel III in effect and its finalization (aka Basel IV) looming, firms are subject to increased regulatory scrutiny regarding the accuracy, timeliness, completeness, and consistency of regulatory capital calculation and financial reporting. Regulatory exams often challenge the integrity, controls, and governance of their data flows and systems.

Hampered by siloed data and systems, these firms struggled to stay current with changes. They also recognized the need to introduce strategic alignment of financial regulatory reporting and capital computations. In Adenza, these firms found exactly what they sought: a unified, integrated, futureproof approach that would streamline processes, enable TCO reduction, and optimize for successful, consistent compliance across an interconnected, rapidly evolving regulatory reporting landscape.

Adenza's AxiomSL Solution

The antithesis of a black box, we deliver an end-to-end solution on a single platform that is unique in the marketplace. With our solution, firms can confidently solve for the full suite of capital calculations including RWA (advanced and standard) and ensure completeness and accuracy of relevant regulatory reports that, for example, in the US include CCAR FR Y-14, FR Y9-C, FFIEC 101/2, SCCL FR 2590, and FR 2510. Clients can easily interrogate data and calculations at any point and achieve cross-report consistency on a global basis using a holistic system characterized by powerful values including:

The benefits

Our forward-looking approach of integrating all risk and financial regulatory reporting needs on a single, cloud-enabled technology-driven platform gives clients the control, consistency, and efficiency they need to meet regulatory mandates across global jurisdictions, while significantly:

- ▶ Optimizing TCO
- ▶ Mitigating control risks and increasing auditability
- ▶ Strengthening strategic alignment of risk, finance, and treasury

Investing in Adenza's AxiomSL solution enables futureproof resilience in the face of regulatory and technology change.